New Albany Community Events Board Has Growing Need for Volunteers February 11, 2010

It may only take one person to plan a small party or backyard barbecue, but it takes an entire village to plan community festivals and holiday celebrations. New Albany Community Events, Inc. is looking for committed volunteers to generously contribute their time and energy assisting with planning and producing our annual celebrations.

New Albany Community Events, Inc. (NACE) is an all-volunteer organization that works to make the Spring Egg Hunt, 4th of July, and Fall Festival (formerly Oktoberfest in New Albany) fun and friendly for the visitors and residents of New Albany. If you have ever enjoyed the Egg Hunt in the spring, the 4th of July Parade, Festival and Fireworks in the summer, or the Oktoberfest in the fall, now is the time to join our organization, and come lend a helping hand.

The New Albany Community Events Board is looking for energetic talented people with a refreshing viewpoint to join the fun and give back to the community. We are looking for people with skills and interests in event planning. We are in the process of creating sub-committees to help with fund raising/sponsorships, marketing/P.R., event logistics, and parade logistics. The sub-committees will consist of people who work or live in New Albany that are enthusiastic and have a knack for throwing the ultimate shindig.

Appointments to the new sub-committees are at the discretion of the NACE board members. Anyone interested in joining one of the sub-committees should submit a letter of intent to
